Dear [REDACTED]

b6 -3

This letter is in response to your request of January 15, 2013, for review of a manuscript by Juan Zarate pursuant to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Prepublication Review Policy (PRP) and Prepublication Review Manual (POL05-001-RMD).

Mr. Zarate's submission was reviewed with respect to FBI equities under the terms of the PRP and the reviewer noted the following matters which require possible amendment/correction.

"An April 2012 FBI Intelligence report evaluating bitcoin use and exchange rates (currently about $15 for one bitcoin) identified bitcoins as an increasingly attractive option for cyber criminals and other illicit groups. The report assessed with high confidence that criminals will increasingly exploit bitcoins using malware to steal the digital currency and botnets to generate new currency absent preexisting value. The potential for illicit use of bitcoins will only increase as the currency grows in popularity and the exchange rate stabilizes."

(U//~~FOUO~~) Refers to content of a leaked internal DI and Cyber Division report. The full report is available on the internet but was not formally released.
